The IV treatment is an IV push or drip treatment done by the doctor, directly into the antecubital vein of the forearm using the following vitamins and minerals:

5 ml magnesium chloride
5 ml calcium gluconate
1 ml hydroxocobalamin
1ml pyridoxine
1ml B complex
1 ml thiamine
1ml dexpanthenol
2.5-5 ml vitamin c

It is a painless and fast treatment that can have unbelievable health benefits!

Originally used by Dr. John Myers in the US, the Myers cocktail has become known for its assistance in treating chronic fatigue, fibromyalgia and chronic depression. In addition, the cocktail provides a boost of energy to the over-worked, over-trained and recovering patients. Prophylactically, the mineral treatment helps to boost the body's overall vitamin and mineral levels (bringing the body back into balance) and thus assists in the prevention of stress and illness.

With only one or two treatments a week over a short-term basis, this treatment is injected directly into the vein taking only 15 - 20 minutes. This treatment allows the nutrients to bypass the digestive system ensuring absorption of all supplements. The only adverse effects in almost all cases are a mild flush as the injection occurs and occasionally a bad taste of the vitamins in the mouth. Unlike drug treatment, the Myers does not force the body to undergo immediate changes, instead it provides a strong substrate for the body to promote healing naturally...in its own way!
